

Workshop on Educational Issues confronting the Minorities and our Possible, Collective and Proactive Responses

Dear Principals/Managers/Administrators/ Correspondents,

Indian Social Institute, Bengaluru in collaboration with Jesuit Educational Association of South Asia (JEASA) is happy to organize a two day workshop on Educational Issues Confronting the Minorities from 17th October to 19th October 2018. This workshop is intended for the heads of Educational Institutions, Managers, Correspondents, Principals and Educationists from South India.

As you are already aware, the times are very difficult and challenging. Though the Christian educational institutions have played a stellar role in the field of education imparting quality education at all levels, yet we find ourselves at the receiving end on many occasions. Is it possible for us to maintain our distinct identity and yet contribute significantly to the building of this nation in the education sector? How can we respond and remain relevant and proactive in a changing context amidst the increasing attempts to intimidate and harass us? The experts will guide us in this regard while they deal with all the current challenges and issues.

This workshop is planned so that the participants can share their experiences and challenges as heads/managers/administrators of educational institutions in the presence of eminent resource persons and look at various ways and strategies to respond to the current issues.
